OVERSEER'S NIGHT OBSERVED AT GRANGE

Overseer's Night was observed by the Mattapoisett Juvenile Grange at its bi-monthly meeting Friday night.

The meeting was conducted by the overseer, Carlton Vaughan. Richard Rawcliffe, master, served as overseer.

A donation was voted to be sent to the "Earn for Ears", a national project. Afghan squares will be started by a group Monday afternoon at the home of the matron. Making afghans for hospitals is a State project.

The Lecturer's hour was in charge of the overseer who presented a most entertaining pantomime entitled The Lighthouse Keeper. Those taking part were Allan Vaughan, the keeper; Doris Fearing, his wife; Dale Fearing, his son; Paul Morris, the villain; Peter Morris, the doctor; Warren Vaughan, the mortician and Carlton Vaughan, the reader.

Refreshments were served by Barry Denham and Billy Gerry.

The Degree will be conferred at the next meeting, March 25th, with Deputy Ann Henderson making her official visit. The matron, Mrs. Heuberger, requests all Juvenile officers to be at the Grange Hall this Saturday, March 19th, at 1:30 for a rehearsal for this Degree.

LET THERE BE LIGHT

Navy scientists propose to do away with night. They say that it is technically possible at this time to illuminate the earth on a 24 hour basis. The rings of th planet Saturn, which are composed of dust, reflect the light of the sun so that no part of Saturn ever is dark. By spreading enough dust around the earth the same result can be attained here.

How science progresses. Radio replaced quiet. Television is replacing companionship. Nuclear bombs relocate large chunks of the earth and threaten to replace people. Rockets get off the ground, every now and again.

Next we replace the night. No more darkness, Christmas tree lights, neon tubes, nightclubs, flashlights and sound sleep. We will go on 24 hour duty just like hens in a modern poultry farm. You know, the ones that keep fattening round the clock because the lights burn all night. The hens never know when night comes. They just keep eating. Well, it wouldn't be quite that bad, science has invented the sleeping pill and made dark bomb shelters necessary. We'd miss the night though. It would be strange never to know the peace of the dark. Never again to see moonlight changing and softening the earth and hiding the man made scars. How would it seem not to know the quiet moment on the shore listening to the waves lap in while the moon makes a silver track on the ocean. How strange to never know the stars and be able to think alone about the universe. Why think? Science will feed a tape into a computer.

They go to far, these educated idiots. The machine can build, dig, soar, fly, float and compute and record. Show us the machine that can dream, originate, create. Show us the machine with a soul and appreciation of anything. If the machine will free man from drugery so he can really think and plan, then they have a purpose. If on the other hand, they make man an idle creature, man becomes the robot.

Scientists

Dear Sirs,

We salute you. You gain rapidly in technique and knowledge. Soon you may find a way to feed all the people of the earth, free us from disease, house us and make possible a decent life for all. These are pressing problems. Perhaps they deserve some real attention. We feel this way, however. If you want perpetual light, go to the Planet Saturn. Perpetual heat - go to the devil. But, for the earth,

Let there be day. Let there be night.

EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING

Mrs. Grace Engesser, president of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club, has called an important meeting of the executive board for this Thursday, March 17th, at 10:30 A.M. at the home of Mrs. Chester Heuberger, Mechanic Street, Mattapoisett.

EARLY PICTURES AT HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Saturday and Sunday the Mattapoisett Historical Society presented an exhibit of early Mattapoisett pictures and post cards which proved extremely interesting to the 133 people who attended. In addition to the pictures, Mr. Francis Rowland had a vintage projector and a collection of slides which he showed. Some of the slides were hand tinted and all created comment and conjecture. The early buildings and scenes which were shown, involved much research on the part of those who mounted the display. Many of the buildings are long gone and in every case the scenery has been considerably altered. When the committee was identifying pictures before the exhibit, many remarked that the snow pictures were something that you never see nowadays. The recent storm changed all that. Some of the pictures might have been taken last week. The problem of snow removal was interesting though. Back in the time when these scenes were recorded, the sidewalks were all shoveled, but the streets were left piled with snow. At that time, horses and sleighs made plowing the streets practically unnecessary. Many people at the exhibit recognized their own houses, and many attempted to identify the people in the pictures. If successful or not, they were not disputed, for few can tell. The early pictures of Pico Beach were most interesting. A string of very imposing Victorian homes overlooked the beach in startling great contrast to the small cottages which are there today. Today, with the hurricane threat every year, no one would dream of building such mansions on any beach in this area. The slides of Water Street showed many changes. Purrington Hall and the Mattapoisett House are now missing, and the houses which are still around have undergone many changes and mostly for the best. One thing that does strike everyone though is the magnificence of the elm trees which were in their full glory at this time. Water Street, in particular, was a tunnel of green from the stately glory of these trees in their prime. When the hurricanes and the dutch elm disease took these kings from our town, a beauty was gone which can never be quite restored. The center of the town around the Congregational Church was spacious and open. Slides showing this area were taken before the Center School was built and the many homes which now fill in the area there.

SECRETARY APPOINTED

Edwin Ross has been appointed secretary of the Rochester Men's Brotherhood to serve out the term of resigning secretary, Harry A. Brown. Mr. Brown felt that because of his interest in scouting he did not have sufficient time to devote to the office, and resigned for this reason.

Vera B. Underhill was elected to a one-year term on the School Committee defeating Priscilla E. Weller with a vote of 183 to 153. Mrs. Weller, who was unseated by Mrs. Underhill, had been named by selectmen last March to fill a vacancy when Alton H. Pierce, Jr., a member of the School Committee, was elected Selectman.

Clifton H. Chase was returned for his second three-year term by a slim 20 vote margin, 183 to 163.

Richard E. Nolan was re-elected to the combined offices of tax collector and treasurer polling 239 and 241 respectively. Mr. Nolan's
